A MEMORABLE WEEKEND

Miguel Speakers Talk Themselves Into California Sweepstake Title

Last weekend was one that the people of Mount Miguel's speech department will never forget. They won the sweepstakes in the state speech finals at Santa Barbara with 38 points.

Eleven of Miguel's speech students went into battle with those from 132 schools throughout the state. When the smoke of verbal battles had been dispersed, Miguel emerged with three first places, three third places, one eighth place, and one tenth place — in addition to four points earned in debate.

Remarked W. R. Sanders Miguel speech coach:

"From past experiences over my eight years of coaching, I would have to conclude tha Mount Miguel and Grossmon have two of the stronges speech teams in the nation."

Record Bears Him Out

And the record bears ou his contention: Mount Migue has finished in the top te schools for the past six year in speech tournaments; th team has sent 58 students t state finals in its eight-year history, and nine students to national finals.

On the past year alone, the Matador team took six first places, one second, third, and sixth place in open competition. Outstanding wins were those at San Diego state open, the Claremont invitational, state qualifying, national qualifying, and state finals, all of which were first places.

Of course difficulties always face the competitive, as well as the non-competitive speech programs, Sanders said.

"Ours lies within the programming schedule for the district. We have a six-period day, which is excellent, but there are so many courses required of those going on to college that they have little time for an extra-curricular as well as the classroom activity, such as speech."

He emphasized that a competitive speech class is basic if one desires to excel in this area.

Rewards Are Many

But if difficulties confront such programs, there are numerous rewards for both students and coach, according to Sanders. "As in any form of competition, the opportunity to pit one's skills against the next man's is a necessary element in educating our youth. The stronger the competition, the more one gains from the experience."

He fondly remembers former students who have gone on in speech arts: Bud Carey, former state champion and third in the nation; Bea Weeks, John Hoffman, Darcy Cremer, Pat Long, Dave Carpenter, Kathy Herberner, and Pat O'Brien. State champions include Bud Carey in original oratory, Dave Reid in impromptu and extemporaneous speaking, Pat Mills in extemporaneous, and Kathy Campbell in extemporaneous.

Students who have represented Miguel at national finals are Jean Dimpel, 1958; Bud Carey, 1961; Dudley Griffin, 1961; Bud Carey and Bill Hill, 1962; Dave Reid, 1964-'65; and Pat Mills and Kathy Campbell, 1965. The last three will represent Miguel at the nationals in Omaha, Neb., at the end of June.

Current Year Record

Miguel's record for the current year includes: sixth place in the Palomar beginners' tournament, against 35 schools; first place at the San Diego state open against 35 schools, third in the San Diego debate against 35 schools; first in the Claremont invitational against 20 schools; first at Cal Western against 25 schools; second in the Mount Miguel interp festival against 18 schools, second in the Grossmont College forensic tournament against 18 schools; first in state qualifying against 35 schools; first in national qualifying against 25 schools; and first in state finals at Santa Barbara against 132 schools.

License Case in La Mesa

There's to be a public hearing on the liquor license of the La Mesa Bowl at 10 a.m. May 27.

The hearing was called by the Alcoholic Beverage Control Department after a delay from May 5. It will be at the State Building auditorium.

There are several intriguing conditions surrounding the license.

First, there are the Matranga brothers, Frank and Joe. In an article published in Parada Magazine in Sept. 1964 it was reported that the brothers are sons in law of John "Papa" Priziola a well-known eastern personality. There is no suggestion that the license case charge has any bearing on this relationship. Neither it it suggested that the La Mesa Bowl is anything but a legitimate business.

What happened is that the Matranga's liquor license for the La Mesa Bowl was ordered suspended in 1963 by a state administrative hearing officer after investigators claimed they learned that the license had been obtained fraudulently.

In March, it was reported that two ABC Appeals Board members dined at the Bowl. The members are Arthur Belcher of Hillsborough and Robert Haden of Merced. The dinner was said to have been arranged by Dominic Travaglione, of Riverside, a member of the state Athletic Commission. When the information became public, all heck broke loose.

When Gov. Brown learned of this he asked Atty. General Thomas Lynch to make an investigation. After Mr. Lynch's report, he accepted the resignation of the three principals but refused to make the report public.

This triggered Assemblyman Clair Burgener of San Diego to demand a copy of the report. His demand was refused. Gov. Brown refused to allow the report to become public, it was said, because the report contained considerable hearsay evidence. Burgener reported that this excuse was rather mere and should not prevent release of the report.

Assemblyman Monagan, R-Tracy, minority floor leader, meanwhile demanded the abolishment of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board. He complained that the board gets its last word from Gov. Brown. He charged that it took away the right of an individual to be heard by a court. He said the board was op

Tijuana Stabbing Fatal to L.G. Man

A recapper for a Lemon Grove tire firm died Sunday in Villa View hospital after he was stabbed in Tijuana two weeks before on April 26.

Pittman, who worked for the Lemon Grove Tire Co., was treated for a chest wound in Tijuana before returning to San Diego. He told police that he had met three strange men outside a Lemon Grove restaurant April 26 and that he drove them to Tijuana.

He said he was sitting in the car with the men drinking beer on a side street in Tijuana. The next thing he remembered, he said, he was on his hands and knees outside his car and discovered he had been stabbed.

Police said Pittman made no mention of having been robbed by the men.

$30,000 Cut In School Tab Offered L.G.

A second look at the Lemon Grove Elementary School district budget Monday night brought about an inkling that it could be reduced.

Paul Reynolds, district business manager, said he could see the possible reduction of $30,000 from the $2,045,000 preliminary budget.

In the record budget is a new money request from teachers for $65,000. The amount is above the established increment raises. Classified personal had a request in for $20,000 in new money raises. This, too, is above increment.

Before that, the board will meet with the County Board on School District Organization, at which time a one-district set-up will be considered. If agreed upon, it would make one elementary district within the boundaries generally of the high school district.

Patton Hospital Space, Staff Lack Cited in Report

Lack of space and shortage of personnel at Patton State Hospital are so serious they both handicap patient recovery and jeoparidze the continued services of the existing staff — yet the hospital does a good job against "tremendous obstacles" according to the California Medical Association report.

The CMA recently released a report on 14 state hospitals for the mentally ill and mentally retarded. It called for more staff, more drugs, and an end to overcrowding of the hospitals.

Eighty-one CMA-member psychiatrists, physcians, and psychologists took part in the hospital survey over an 18-month period. A total of 282 recommendations were made, ranging from minor suggestions about hospital administration to major proposals dealing with staff prolotmens and treatment programs.

The report was released April 26 in a joint news conference by Senator Alan Short, (D-Stockton), author of the resolution calling for the survey; Dr. Stuart C. Knox of Los Angeles, chairman of the California Medical Association Committee on Mental Health, and Dr. James V. Lowry, director of the State Department of Mental Hygiene.

Congestion Noted

Virtually all wards at Patton are congested, the CMA survey team points out. In some, they found "less than one foot of space between beds" and so little provision for storage of patients' personal articles that these items "are piled in a heap besides the beds."

The report points out that the hospital has been "in a state of transition therapeutically," but that while "far-sighted, enlightened practices" were being put into effect, at the same time "obsolete approaches are still followed."

"On the positive side, a strong sense of purpose prevails as intensive social work is carried out in the wards to move patients back into the community," the report notes.

Overall Summary

In summary, the overall report says:

1. In most hospitals there was evidence of appalling overcrowding.

2. The hospital staffs have a very limited number of psychiatrists in proportion to the patient population. All hospitals could fulfill their responsibilities for patient treatment and care more readily if there were additional professional staff in all categories.

3. In some cases, hospital pharmacies run out of the more commonly prescribed drugs before the end of the budget period. Insufficient supply of drugs for patients sometime necessitates the rehospitalization of patients at extra cost to the state.

Too Many Oldsters

4. There are too many elderly men and women in the hospitals who could be cared for in nursing homes.

5. The hospital physical facilities are generally adequate and well maintained, but some of the buildings are old World War II barracks-type buildings unsuited for treating the mentally ill.

6. Staff morale and concern for the patients is generally high. Of the 282 recommendations, Dr. Lowry said the Department has accepted 230 and were still studying the remaining 52. He pointed out that 112 of the recommendations require additional funds that must be approved by the legislature.

Of the 13 specific recommendations made by the CMA for Patton, two are in effect, six will be initiated when budget approval is given, and five are under study.

Carol Martin and Arthur Kohrmann Jr.

Carol Martin Troth Told at Buffet Supper

The engagement of Miss Carol Martin of Lemon Grove to H. Arthur Kohrmann Jr., now in flight training at North Island Naval Station was announced in late April to the 50 guests at a buffet supper in Point Loma given by Dr. and Mrs. Stuart Bicknell.

The bride-to-be, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Martin, 1535 Larwood Rd., is a student at San Diego State College, where she is preparing to be an elementary school teacher. She had been secretary of her senior class at Mount Miguel High School before her graduation in 1962.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Kohrmann Sr. of Lawrence, Kan., where he attended high school before entering Kansas University.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor

I read a letter to the editor in the May 6th issue of the Spring Valley Bulletin by Neva Kindred of Spring Valley. She complained about the poor turnout for the school election. I wish to explain my feelings about this subject, too. I have paid high school taxes in the Spring Valley-La Mesa School District for over 20 years and in the Lemon Grove District for over 4 years I have never contributed one cent to the expenses of the schools, but I have never failed to vote on election day.

She speaks about the people in the south fighting for the right to vote and only 40 percent voting in the north.

I think that I have a solution to the problem. Why not bring back the old poll tax in reverse. Every voter that did not vote on election day would be fined for not voting. A poll tax of this kind would bring in much-needed money for the schools at 60 percent not voting. Why not suggest it to Governor Brown? He is tax-happy.

In the last election in Lemon Grove I voted late in the evening and my number on the register was only 79. I live just across the street from a junior high school and all I get for my school taxes is a lot of litter strewn over my front lawn.

William Doughman
8454 Palm st.
Lemon Grove.

Dear Editor:

It has come to my attention twice within the past few weeks of the hazardous street condition that exists at the corner of Buena Vista and Central Avenue.

The first episode involved a near accident with a boy on a bicycle as he moved away from the stop sign on Buena Vista and attempted to cross Central. I had to swerve into the other line of traffic to avoid this lad and if there had been another car coming there certainly would have been a fatal accident.

My attention was again called to it Saturday, May 1, when one of my patients had a car accident after stopping at the stop sign and starting to advance across Central. Because of the blind corner which exists there the patient's car was hit broadside by a car coming down Central Avenue.

I feel that this matter should be called to the attention of the Board of Supervisors, as certainly a fatal accident will occur there if this hazardous situation continues to exist.

Sincerely,
Myron D. Fessler, M.D.

Dear Editor:

I want to take this opportunity of thanking the fire rescue squad and the police of Lemon Grove who tried so valiantly to save my husband's life on Sunday night May 2.

Lemon Grove people should be grateful they have men who are ready at any time to make such a wonderful effort to save a loved one.

My children and I feel every effort was made and we appreciate all they did for us.

Thanks to them all.

JUDYGAY PETERSEN

Judygay Petersen To Be Wed in July

Mrs. Cleo Petersen, 8989 Lamar St., Spring Valley, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Judygay Joan, to Thomas Joseph DiGrazia.

A July 3 wedding is scheduled at St. John of the Cross Catholic Church in Lemon Grove.

Miss Petersen is a 1960 graduate of Mount Miguel High School and attended San Diego State College for two years. She is presently enrolled at Kelsey-Jenney College of Business.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DiGrazia of Summit, Ill., and a graduate of Fenwich High School in Chicago. He interrupted his college work to enlist in Navy, and is now serving aboard ship out of San Diego.

NEWLY ELECTED — Mrs. Donald Vinson, 618 Broadview, Spring Valley, has been installed as president of the La Mesa Junior Woman's Club. She chose as her theme for the club year, "Friendship is the highest point of perfection in federation." She has been a member for five years and has been crafts chairman, historian, 2nd vice president, and 1st vice president.

As an economy measure a Florida legislator has suggested issuing new auto license tags every two years instead of yearly. It would save at least $180,000 a year, it is believed.

Ohio Reunion to Be First in 23 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Morgan will be leaving Saturday for a two week's vacation in East Liverpool, Ohio. The "second honeymoon' trip for Ed and Lora will mark Ed's first reunion with his Ohio relatives in 23 years.

Although the Morgans live at 976 Finch St., El Cajon, Ed is probably well known in Lemon Grove as in his home city. He has been the manager of the Mayfair Market on Broadway here three different times.

He opened the market when it was new 11 years ago. Eight years later he returned for a period as manager. His present "tenure" dates from last August.

Broken Window Value Adds up to the Hundreds

Several hundred dollars worth of windows were reported during the week by several homeowners of the area to have been broken.

Mrs. Marilyn G. Wiggs of 2231 Alton Pl., Lemon Grove, reported a neighbor boy threw rocks and broke a window in her house.

Robert Garcia, 8045 Longdale, Lemon Grove, told officers that more of his windows were broken. He said that over the past six months five windows valued at about $200 have been broken by BBs.

C. A. Hass reported that during the past three weeks $85 worth of windows have been broken in an unoccupied new house in Spring Vista Estates on Lang Street, Spring Valley. Two of them were broken over the past weekend, he said.

Tractor Bucket Seat Holds Some Fascination

Someone admired the bucket-seat on a "skiploader" tractor parked last weekend on Kenora south of Campo Road, and took it along with him. Larry Stowers reported the theft of the seat from the tractor, owned by Long Marker & Howley Construction Co., 9157 Olive, Spring Valley.

BARBER SHOP BREAK-IN

Kenneth E. Rose of El Cajon reported that the barber shop at 8333 Broadway, Lemon Grove, was entered Friday night. A cabinet was ransacked and a pair of clippers and two massaging machines were stolen.

WELD EQUIPMENT STOLEN

William A. Hedges, 9585 Lamar St., Spring Valley, reported to police that a set of acetylene and oxygen tanks, a regulator, and torch had been stolen, as well as two newly recapped tires and another tire mounted on a wheel.

BLEACH IN GAS TANK

Jesse M. Hodge of 3927 N. Bonita, Spring Valley, told officers that someone had removed his gas cap and poured a white powder into his gas pipe. He said he thought it was powdered bleach.

The DIMMER VIEW

We don't know the details of the La Mesa Bowl license acquisition, nor the details reported by the Attorney General. Nor do we know why the Governor is playing so cagey about this particular license.

ABC Appeals Board Members Belcher and Haden used extremely poor judgment in being a guest in a place where the license was in question. Gov. Brown has exercised extremely poor judgment in keeping the attorney general's report secret.

The license holders are yet to be ruled innocent or guilty by the ABC department. Gov. Brown and his ABC group, by a combination of poor judgment and secrecy, will have left a shadow of suspicion on the board's operation no matter what the outcome of the hearing.

County Budget Is Bigger; Sups Control Is Diminishing

No matter how you slice it, the tax pie is going to be cut deeper this year.

The only hope for aid, according to T. M. Heggland, county administrator, is for state legislation by which the state would take some of the heat off property owners.

Thoughtful taxpayers (and who isn't these days) are aware that tax money spent from any agency will be collected from the taxpayer in the eventual end.

The budget hearing starts June 16 but there is little likelihood that the budget will be cut from its present $122 million level.

Heggland points out that economy is the keynote of his baliwick. Assessed valuations in San Diego County rank 55th in the 58 counties. 36 countics in the state have higher tax rates.

Henry Boney, Supervisor for this district told us that less than 10 per cent of the total budget is under control of the supervisors. The rest is dictated by state and federal governments.

Of the total, $16 millions are old age funds; $13 millions are needy children funds. Then there are 320 new employees who will be added to the growing county personnel total. Unemployment in the county stands at 7.9 per cent and there is no substantial increase in sight, Heggland reported.

No matter how hurtful the tax bite is this year, it is only a rising step in the ladder of tax costs that may see the rate half again as high as it is now before this decade closes.

Revenge Is Sweet For Him Who Waits

Several weeks ago this newspaper explained that an automatic stamp machine has been installed in the Spring Valley Post Office.

As a fuller explanation we averred that the machine would be on duty 24 hours a day; that the machine required no vacations, sick leaves or coffee breaks.

The next day came the call. An anonymous post office clerk announced resentment of the insinuation that post office clerks were taking too many coffee breaks.

It took considerable effort convincing the caller that no personal connotation was intended.

Last week the caller, or his friend, had his revenge when the automatic stamp machine spit and sputtered and refused to emit stamps.

Someone hung a sign on the thing.

It read "Out For Coffee."

Trash Snooper Called Off After Citizens Squawk

It was silly for the County people who operate our dumps to do it, but just as the recent local Clean Up Campaign reached the climax, the Department of Public Works decided to enforce an ordinance which requires dump users to buy a permit.

The permit is $10 and must be acquired by those who bring material to the county dump if the material was not generated solely from the driver's own residence.

It was rewarding that the heat came off soon after we editorially pointed out how incongruous the enforcement is. Citizens mount a campaign against litter, and the dump people mount a campaign against the citizens who try to clean up. It is almost as unfortunate as the assessment policy where a home owner's assessed valuation rises if he puts in a new fence or a new walkway or does some of the other things that improves the neighborhood generally. From the latter there is no relief, we suppose, taxing formulas being what they are.

But a pat on the shoulder was added last week when we stumbled across Supervisor Bob Dent at a social function. He is not a supervisor of this district but he said the matter had been brought to his attention, probably by our own Supervisor Henry Boney. Since he mentioned it to us, it was unquestionably our editorial rantings which caught and held their attention.

In any event, they are not putting a County employe at the dump anymore to snoop on your trash and garbage habits to see if you are liable for a permit. Only obvious commercial vehicles are being checked.

We should think the added income the County will have as a result will be welcome. The income is the savings from the regular and overtime wages the snoopers get paid. Since Saturday and Sunday are the days most people use the dumps that would be the period the snoopers would have been on duty, so the savings would be in overtime and should be considerable.

AT WORK AND PLAY — Twenty-three hard-working members and friends of Spring Valley Kiwanis Club and eight Kiwani-Annes put in a hard day Saturday burning tumbleweed. The project removed much of the fire hazard caused by tumbleweeds accumulating at various locations in Spring Valley.

Eggs were thrown into the laundromat next door.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I know that as a good American you are very much interested in knowing what is happening to the Veterans of our country, and especially as it relates to thousands and thousands of Veterans who are now over 65 years of age and are feeble and need medication, hospitalization, and doctors care. Many of these people have disabilities that are traceable but not proveable to their service of our government in defending the democratic way of life.

In 1917, 18, and 19, these men offered their lives, their sacred honor, and their material resources in helping to preserve and maintain the republican form of government and to establish democracy on a wider scale throughout our nation, by defending it in Europe, in Russia, and wherever they are sent by our government.

For years it has been the policy of our government to take care of men with honorable discharges who became sick and needy. Lately, the number has grown by leaps and bounds. The people of this nation have built hospitals from Maine to the State of Washington, and from Washington to the Gulf of Mexico, and from the Gulf of Mexico to the Canadian border. These hospitals have done a very good job.

It was established that when an honorably discharged Veteran, who served honorably in the armed forces of the United States in time of war or in time of peace, needed help that he was hospitalized or sent to a soldier's home.

Now, the new order issued by the Veterans Administration to close 17 of these hospitals, and all of the homes for Veterans and the offices that serve these Veterans, is going to do one thing, and that is to throw these people on county taxpayers and little homeowners, because his nation would never allow any human being to be thrown out in the street without proper care.

This is an item that has not been explored nor has it been called to the attention of the American people. It the federal government can afford to give 100 million dollars a year to Nassar of Egypt, who tells us to "Go to Hell" and to Sukarno of Indonesia, surely, we can take care of our Veterans first and not place the burden on the little taxpayer to carry the load that is going to make taxes confiscatory in nature.

It is bad enough to realize that a man with a total and permanent service connected disability, and who has a wife, receives $66 a week. I know that the taxpayers of this county and this nation want to know these facts, and for this reason, I am submitting them for your consideration.

Thanking you for going into this matter, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

(Rev.) Frank B. Gigliotti, D. D.
President, United Taxpayers Association of San Diego County, Inc. Past National Commander, Regular Veterans Association of the United States.

Helix Scribes Win Title; Mt. Miguel Also Scores

Helix High School placed first in the Journalism Education Association state "write-off" held recently at Whittier. A number of young journalists of both Helix and Mount Miguel high schools placed high in the May 1 competition.

Jo Leach of Helix won a first and third place in two catagories; and Neil Good of Mount Miguel took a second.

Helix Winners

Helix winners and their catagories are:

Dick Bailey, 8th in sports; Jane Bouterious, 6th in editorials; Jo Leach; 3rd in news and 1st in editorials; Larry Steckling, 8th in news and 3rd in features.

Jo Leach also won the individual sweepstakes trophy and Larry Steckling placed third in individual sweepstakes.

These young writers competed against 160 other top journalism students from California who won in their area competitions. Helix had won sweepstakes at San Diego State, competing against 16 San Diego high schools.

Helix won the regional JEA competition in 1963 and came in second last year. Clovis Hill is the school's journalism adviser.

Mt. Miguel Winners

Mount Miguel winners and their catagories are: Neil Good 2nd in news writing; James Wermers, 10th in news writing and honorable mention in sports writing. Each won individual sweepstakes' honors and won a 7th place in the state for the entire five-member team.

"I am extremely proud," said Mrs. June M. Mott, Migue journalism teacher, the opportunity to work with students who recognize the necessity of publishing only the best in journalist writing, who understand the problems that a high school paper faces, and who are aware of their responsibilities to the student."

AWARD — Larry May, editor of Mt. Miguel's newspaper, El Trovador (right), and Neil Good, the paper's managing editor, present an award to Max Goodwin, publisher of the Lemon Grove Review and Spring Valley Bulletin. The presentation, "for outstanding contribution to high school journalism," was made May 13 at a meeting of the California Newspaper Publishers Association. Mrs. June Mott, Mt. Miguel journalism adviser, attended the special CNPA meeting, along with ten other high school teachers and advisers of the San Diego area.

MOTHER STE. VINCENT NAMED TOP PRINCIPAL

Mother Ste. Vincent, principal of Santa Sophia Elementary School, has been named "Principal Of The Year," as the result of a contest, handled by radio station KCBQ. The contest, which was in action during March and April, terminated early this month. It was carried on by students all over the county, getting into the field and securing signed votes for their favorite principal.

Mother Ste. Vincent received over two million votes. This entitles her to a scholarship of $250., which she will receive when she returns from a trip to Rome. A spokesman for the school said Mother Ste. Vincent is expected to pass the scholarship on to a student. She also was on television recently as the "Teacher Of The Week."

Although Santa Sophia School is comparatively a young school, it is active in many county projects. Students recently took part in a county-wide poetry contest, and walked off with some top honors.

Diane Chevallier, an 8th grade student at Santa Sophia, who will graduate in June, has been awarded a scholarship to the Sacred Heart Academy in El Cajon, and will begin her studies there in September.

Sometimes we wonder where all the paper clips go. We sell about 50,000 paper clips every month and we are just one small store of thousands in this country. One amusing sidelight on the paper clip bit . . . A customer of ours with a "home" office in Los Angeles has to send invoices every day to L. For two years now the L. A. office has been complaining about the paper clips expense down here.

LEMONS SPOIL FASTEST WHEN PICKED LATE

LOS ANGELES—Some people have the idea that a fruit crop is in no danger of being lost owing to a lack of harvest labor until it starts dropping on the ground.

Not so with lemons, says the Council of California Growers.

Lemons, unlike most deciduous fruits, can literally spoil on the tree or greatly depreciate in value before they start dropping. It's because nature endowed citrus fruit with a stem mechanism that "hangs tight" longer.

Here are some of the things that happen to lemons if not picked in time:

— Lemons destined for the fresh domestic markets and for export are picked on the "green" side so that they can be stored for periods up to six months. If picking is delayed until the lemons turn yellow their storage "life" is reduced from four to six weeks. The $10 million export market for California and Arizona grown lemons depends on a long storage life.

— If allowed to remain on the trees too long, lemons grow to sizes larger that the fresh markets will accept. Oversize lemons go into by-products manufacture—at prices well below those sold on the fresh markets. Growers generally do well to get back production costs for lemons sold for by-products.

— Lemons not harvested in time eventually develop "blossom end decline". When this happens, juice cells at the blossom end begin to dry out and finally the fruit spoils on the tree.

— When fruit on a lemon tree is allowed to drop, the following season's crop is drastically reduced because it interferes with the "set" of the blossoms.

BIG TIRES MAY CAUSE OVERSPEED

The use of oversize tires on a vehicle can alter speedometer readings as much as five to eight miles per hour, Captain R. Gautsche commander of the California Highway Patrol's San Diego area, said.

"Speedometers are geared to the size tire which was original equipment on your car or truck. Replacement with larger tires will give you a speedometer reading below your actual speed".

The local Patrol commander said that in recent months his officers had stopped a number of drivers who were surprised they had been exceeding the speed limit. Their vehicles were equipped with oversize tires.

"Speedometers on some vehicles are geared to the front wheels; others through the rear wheels. Thus oversize tires on either front or rear could affect the speedometer reading, depending on the make of cars."

He said motorists could determine speedometer accuracy by driving through speedometer check zones set up on many major highways.

"SHE LOOKS HUNGRY" — Mike Carlson, Casa de Oro Little Leaguer, apparently thinks something along this line for he is giving Miss Jamesa Levy of Spring Valley his "pitch" to sell a ticket to the S.V. Kiwanis Club Pancake Festival. The event will be held Saturday, May 22, at the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce to raise funds for the club's work for boys' and girls' projects.

Kiwanis Pancake Festival Ticket Sale Gets Under Way

The Spring Valley Kiwanis Club's annual "Pancake Festival" is scheduled for Saturday, May 22, from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., at the S. V. Chamber of Commerce hall, 9050 Memory Lane.

At $1 per serving for adults and 50 cents for children under 12, the menu will consist of pancakes, sausage and coffee or milk.

Proceeds from the festival will go toward boys and girls work in the area. Assisting the Kiwanis Club, will be the newly formed Kiwani-Annes.

At the May 5 meeting of the S. V. Kiwanis Club, it was announced that several members of the Monte Vista High School Key Club will be attending the Key Club convention at Monterey on May 15. A report on the convention is expected.

Byron F. White, a San Diego attorney and C. P. A., was guest speaker at the meeting. He spoke on taxes and how a person could lower his taxes through methods and investments. He spoke on the lowering of taxes through property, stocks and bonds, insurance and corporations.

S. W. BROWN AND FRIEND (9-POUND TYPE)

Angler's Angles

A FISHY COLUMN

By JIM HURLEY

Went fishing last Friday—my friend and I, that is. Hate to admit it, especially after all the things I've said about him, but he did land the biggest fish. It was a 9-pound halibut . . . and that is a lot of fish!

These things are the oddest-looking creatures, but quite tasty. We left it at the Smoke House, and were pleasantly surprised at the nominal fees for cleaning, smoking and filleting. They charge 20 cents a pound and it is well worth the price.

We caught many croaker, known by four other names, several sea bass, and a couple of small barracuda.

We used line anchors and fished on the bottom from Nick's Bait Barge off of Shelter Island. Up until noon we could hardly cast without catching something. Several halibut were taken that day by other assorted fishermen.

This would have been a near-perfect trip with the exception of something my friend did. He brought the coffee but neglected to bring sugar for same. Since he drinks it black and guess-who likes sugar . . . Oh, well, he did the same thing last year up in the Sierras.

Planning June Trip

We are planning another trip in early June up to Crowley Lake, which opened a week ago. The weather was terrible but some nice trout were taken by those hardy souls who withstood the weather.

An interesting item about our own Lake Murray: This 150 acre reservoir used to provide about 7,000 man-days of fair angling for black bass and sunfish each year. Visitors paid a dollar for patrol and sanitary services.

In 1959 Al Grosse of Helix Irrigation District, owners of the lake, purchased trout and stocked the lake. By 1961 attendance had increased to 50,000 fishermen, and the catch jumped from 7,000 to 50,000 pounds of fish.

Fees have increased slightly since then, but the average attendance is 500 a day through the winter fishing season of 100 days. This is what you might call popularity.

Lake Jennings in Lakeside is expected to surpass this. These lakes may not be the mountain-stream-fed lakes of the Rockies many of us know, but it's the next best thing closest at hand. So give it a go! Your kids will especially enjoy the kids' section at Murray, which is free!

RESULTS OF THE WEEKEND

Lake Murray—Very good trout fishing. Average 3.1 per person. Best fishing is from boats in 18 to 25 feet of water, fishing the bottom. Biggest fish and surprise was the 7-pound bass caught by Joe Allen of San Diego while fishing for trout from the shore with salmon eggs. Trout plant of 1500 this Thursday.

Lower Otay—For boats call and make reservations. Bass bluegill, crappie, bullhead, and channel cat are all awaiting your line. Average 6 to 7 pounds per fisherman. Ed James of San Diego caught a 7¼-pound bass on a shocking pink plastic worm.

Sutherland—Still the best bass fishing lake in the San Diego area. Many bass limits were taken. Wilford Danvers of Encinitas caught a limit with one weighing in at 7-½ pounds.

El Capitan—Had 300 fishermen. Bass fishing was off, but channel cat coming up with 1½ to 2-pound averages. The largest weighed 5-¼ pounds.

Lake Jennings—279 adults on Saturday and 52 juniors, catching 811 trout weighing 480 pounds. 98 fishermen caught limits. On Sunday there were 166 adults, 36 juniors, with 65 limits. Total fish caught weighed 258 pounds.

Although there is, as yet, no cure for leukemia, a form of cancer which is increasing, scientists are constantly finding ways of controlling the disease temporarily.
